

Print the scenes onto card. Cut out the front of a cereal box to allow the background to be stuck inside against the 'back' wall. Then cut out the model of Steven and stick him into the foreground. Cut a hole immediately above where you have placed Steven and then stick some coloured acetate over the hole. When a torch is shone through the acetate, Steven will be illuminated. 'Clouds' made of cotton wool can be stuck to the top front of the cereal box and the bottom can be decorated with either green paper to represent grass, or the text can be printed and stuck along the bottom of the front of the box

The scenery is taken from

How to Cheat at Visual Aids
by Pauline Adams
and Judith Merrell,

produced by Scripture Union

tab - fold back and glue to base of box

tab - fold back and glue to base of box

